

Interns will conduct spring waterfowl surveys along the Naknek River on the Alaska Peninsula, waterfowl disturbance monitoring, waterfowl data analysis and report preparation. Interns may assist in other ongoing refuge projects including aerial and ground surveys outside the King Salmon area. Daily waterfowl surveys are conducted by vehicle/foot. Position will be based out of the Fish & Wildlife Service office in King Salmon and live in a coed bunkhouse or cabin. To Qualify you must have a college degree or junior/senior standing in wildlife or biology program, must be able to identify waterfowl, work in cold / windy conditions, drive four-wheel-drive trucks, pass 12-gauge shotgun qualification (bear safety), use IBM-PC software, be in excellent physical condition, and able to work independently. Airfare, lodging and $25 /day food allowance included. To apply - send detailed cover letter, resume (include names/contact phone numbers or e-mail address for 3 references) to Susan Savage (WATERFOWL), susan_savage@fws.gov OR AK Pen Nat'l Wildlife Refuge, PO Box 277, King Salmon, AK 99613, postmark by February 10.